WEEK ENDING JAN. 26, 1907.

President Roosevelt tent a special mes sage to Congress urging the passage of the modified ship subsidy bill. After an investigation it was decided that A. M. Bangs should not be accepted as a bidder for the canal contract, leaving W. J. Oilver, his partner, in the lowest bid, to seek another associate; Theodore P. Shonts resigned the chairmanship of the Panama canal commission to take charge of the Belmont-Ryan street railway interests in New York; Chief Engineer John F. Stevens was made head of the canal commission. Charles D. Walcott, director of the geological survey, was elected secretary of the Smithsonian Institution. The substitute Foraker resolution providing for an inquiry into the Brownsville affair was passed by the Senate, and February 4 was chosen as the date ate, and February 4 was chosen as the date of beginning the investigation. The amendof beginning the investigation. The amendment increasing the salaries of the Vice President, the Speaker, and members of the cabinet, and of the two houses of Congress, was agreed to by the House and Senate. Senator Beveridge delivered in the Senate an illustrated speech on child labor. The House passed the District of Columbia, the consular and diplomatic, the military academy and the pension appropriation bills, the bill to increase the artillery, and the bill to investigate the conditions of child and women workers. Joseph W. Balley was re-elected to the United States Senate by the Texas legislature on the condition that he should resign in case investigation proved him to be guilty of improper relations with certain corporations. Both branches of Congress adjourned because of the death of Senator Alger, who exp.red suddenly on Thursday. Customs reports showed a falling off of millions in the traue between the United States and the Philippines. Secretary of State Root returned from Canada. The trial of Harry K. Thaw, for the killing of Stanford White, was begun in New York.

Foreign.

The American warships under Admiral Davis sailed from Kingston after a peremptory request from Gov. Swettenham that the troops be withdrawn; deep regret over the incident was expressed in London and official notes were exchanged at Washington which developed a disposition on the part of the British government to repudiate the governor's course; shocks still continue in Jamaica and more buildings were destroyed. Delegates of the labor party in Great Britain met at Belfast; the levy on each member for the support of the party's representatives in the of commons was doubled, and it was de-cided to indorse local option in temperance questions. W. Whiteley, head of a great department store in London, was shot and killed by a young man, who later mortally shot himself. Military forces prevented a great socialist demonstration in Paris in support of the weekly rest-day movement; a new bill granting further concessions to Catholics was approved by the French caban apparent victory for the government. Anti-clerical disturbances occurred in Bilbao and San Sebastian, Spain; gendarmer charged a Catholic procession at Barcelona and a number of persons were injured The second anniversary of "Red Sunday" was observed in Lodz, Russian Poland, a complete suspension of work, while in St Petersburg the men in a number of fac-tories struck; arrangements were made to float a $25,000,000 internal loan to reliev Shah of Persia, received the diplomatic corps at Teheran; turbulent scenes charac-terized the session of the Pers'an parliament. Nicaragua and Honduras agreed to submit their differences to arbitration under the Corinto agreement. The police arrested 100 students at Lemberg University, Austria, for riotous demonstrations.

In the District. The Commissioners of the District decided to report adversely upon the House bill to incorporate the American Medical Union in the District. The Commissioners decided not to prohibit the use of sidewalks by roller skaters. The District of Columbia ap-propriation bill was passed by the House of Representatives. Senator Gallinger introof Representatives. Senator Gallinger intro-duced in the Senate, with a favorable re-port from the District committee, a substi-tute bill for Senate bill 6147, authorizing changes in the street railway tracks to connect with the union station. President Roosevelt's selection of a design for the statue of Kosciuszko, the Polish patriot, which is to be erected on the northeast corner of Lafayette Park, was formally adopted by the Kosciuszko statue commis-sion.
